Faculty Members You Want to Review Your File:

Admission to the Biology Graduate Program is conditional on having the sponsorship of a tenure track faculty member. A list of the department's tenure-track faculty and their research interests is available at <http://biology.unm.edu>. For the selection committee, it is preferable (not required) that applicants identify one or more members of the faculty whose field of research most matches their own and who they would like to have sponsor their admission.

Two- to Four-word Description of Your Area of Interest (e.g., Plant Ecology, Conservation Biology):
